

OPERATORS

Definition

(provisional)

An operator is a transformation where the codomain is the domain. An operator is just a transformation with a particular domain and codomain, just as a transformation is just a function on and to vector spaces.

