

Definition

A probability distribution  $p : X \rightarrow [0, 1]$  is log-linear (a log-linear probability distribution) if the function  $f : X \rightarrow \mathbf{R}$  defined by $$f(x) = \log p(x) \quad \text{for all } x \in X$$

is a linear function

