

NUMBERINGS

Why

TODO Need for ordered graphs Also used in linear combinations

Definition

A numbering for a finite set is a bijection from the set of natural numbers up to the size of the set to the set. A numbering is a sequence.

