

Why

If two random variables have the same cumulative distribution functions, will they have the same law? And what of the converse?

Result

Proposition 1. The cumulative distribution functions of two random variables are equal if and only if their laws are equal.

