

1 Why

1

2 Result

Proposition 1. Suppose  $X$  is a complete inner product space,  $A \subset X$  closed and convex, and  $x \in X$ . There exists a unique  $z \in X$  satisfying

$$d(z, x) = \inf_{y \in A} d(y, x).$$

---

<sup>1</sup>Future editions will include.

