

1 Why

1

2 Result

Proposition 1. Suppose X is a complete inner product space, $A \subset X$ closed and convex, and $x \in X$. There exists a unique $z \in A$ satisfying

$$d(z, x) = \inf_{y \in A} d(y, x).$$

¹Future editions will include.

