

Differential Relative Entropy

1 Why

We want relative entropy for densities.

2 What

The differential relative entropy of a second density with respect to the first density is the cross entropy of the second with respect to the first less the differential entropy of the first.

2.1 Notation