

Definition

Let  $A \subset \mathbf{R}$  be open. A function  $f : A \rightarrow \mathbf{R}$  is smooth if it has derivatives of any order. Since differentiability implies continuity, every derivative of a smooth function is continuous.

