

Definition

A linear transformation $T : V \rightarrow W$ between two normed vector spaces is continuous if it is continuous with respect to the metric induced by the norms.

