

Definition

An real outcome variable (or real random variable) is an outcome variable whose codomain is a subset of the real numbers. Such variables are often called quantitative.

