

UNIVERSAL CHARACTER CODE

Why

1

Definition

The universal character code (Unicode) is a binary code whose words are 8 bits.²

Notation

We often denote the set of unicode strings by `string` .

¹Future editions will include.

²Future editions will include.

