

MUTUAL INFORMATION

Why

Definition

The mutual information of a joint distribution over two random variables is the entropy of the product of the marginal distributions relative to the joint distribution.

Notation

Let A and B be two non-empty sets. Let $p: A \times B \to \mathbf{R}$ be a distribution.

