

INTERPOLATORS

Why

Definition

Let $(a^1, b^1), \dots, (a^n, b^n)$ be a paired dataset in $A \times B$. An interpolator is a predictor $f: A \to B$ which satisfies

$$f(a^i) = b^i$$

for each i = 1, ..., n. In this case we say that the predictor f interpolates the dataset.

