

REAL SQUARES

Why

We extend the notion of a square number to the reals.

Definition

A number $a \in \mathsf{R}$ is square if there exists $b \in \mathsf{R}$ so that $b^2 = a.^1$

¹Future editions may collapse this sheet with Real Square Roots.

